Description:	Resolution:
Ms. Baron called to let us know that she has complied and removed all her furniture off the balcony, however, she had plastic of some sort stuffed under the furnace door so that the birds could not get into the furnace room. When the workers were on her balcony they had to remove the material and she is now very upset as she indicated that the birds will return and feels we are responsible for any repairs or damage the birds may cause.	I explained that the workers had to remove the material in order to complete the balcony work and that it may take up to three weeks to completely finish the project and that we will let her know when she will be able to use the balcony once again. She requested to speak to the Manager. I forwarded information to Lisette to call her.

Project manager advised items remain on balcony and storage so they cannot begin working on coating. Owner advised her husband redid the coating a few years back and there is no issues, therefore she will not clear off the balcony. APM insisted, owner requested to speak with supervisor.
		Resolution:	PM spoke with owner who insists there is nothing wrong with her balcony. Advised owner, while her husband may have coated it, the Board has contracted to have the balcony recoated and a warranty applied. Owner should not have coated balcony since it is a common element. Since Board has right to maintain common elements under IL condo act, owner must clear off balcony for maintenance. Owner insisted an inspection be done since there is nothing wrong with it. Advised owner will have Project Manager contact her for inspection, but will not waive the coating to be done. Owner must clear off balcony as requested regardless of inspection.

Resolution:

I explained to Mr. that we would not tell him that he would be fine and no one here spoke to him. I explained that it was already pasted the due date and several letters were sent to him regarding the insurance, however, if he would like to dispute the charges he may put it in writing to the board and we would be more than happy to present it for him. Also explained to Mr that we can not call his mortgage company of his behalf as they will not give us information. I told Mr. to call his mortgage company to find out exactly what it is they are requesting of him. Mr then hung up.

Resolution:

Advised tenant that an oil material sold in stores can be spread to absorb the oil or a brush with water and soap can be used to remove it. Tenant asked if garages are going to be washed twice a year as previously done. Tenant had her oil changed and they did not replace the cap causing the leak, but figured garages will be cleaned soon so that should take care of it. Tenant doesn't understand why association cannot clean the space since that is why she rents so she does not have to maintain anything.

Description:

Outbound: PM returning owners call regarding balcony. Owner was upset that balcony is to be worked on and request was denied for delay in project. Asked PM to see what is involved in repair and when it will be taken care of since owner was out of a balcony for nine months last year. Small area in front of patio door is where puddle is gathering but all other areas are allowing water to roll off.

Resolution:

PM advised will get in touch with Project Manager to see what exactly is involved at how long it will be out for. Owner does not understand why she was not first when this work was being completed.

Update: PM advised owner balcony will be done Monday, June 24, 2013 for small area in front of patio door as all other warranty items were at 1615, that is where they started. Repair will include small area sand blast on Monday, additional coating material will be added, sealed and will take 3 days for completion. Balcony will return to full use by Thursday, June 27, 2013.
