

112B Dana Point 1505

mike

to:

LRay

06/06/2013 03:59 PM

Hide Details

From: "mike" <mike.tignino@contourscrew.com>

To: <LRay@lmsnet.com>,

Just talked to my Mom today, stating she received a letter stating denied. Well I'm not paying a single cent to you guys. I clean up my dogs Poo all the time anywhere I go. I work for a living & am not paying $260.00 for something we didn't do. And now your hassling my elderly Mom. Nice real Nice. Good Luck. I wouldn't recommend Dana Point to my worst enemy.

My Mom owns the units but she is older & not doing well. This is why I am responding now since I didn't have access to the letters till we went to her house. My mom has been suffering. I am not blaming you for this however this does make my life more stressful living here. Having to show up to a hearing is extremely difficult as I am a business owner & not able to leave much hence like I said my dog & I are not home much. My wife & I have purchased a house & am closing may 28th. I need to do some renovations so will not be moving for a few months. I liked the condo however am happy we are leaving, this harassment has really taken a toll on us. I've spent every last penny to try to afford a new home, $250.00 for something I didn't do will really hurt. I guess the window dwellers got their wish, one less dog owner.